Salem Witch Trials Memorial

There is a memorial to the victims of the Salem witch trials next to the Old Burying Point on Charter Street in Salem. There was a design competition for the memorial in 1991 and the winning design was dedicated by Elie Wiesel in 1992. There are twenty granite blocks placed into two sides of a 3-sided granite wall. The name and hanging date of one of the victims is engraved on each.

Description: Rebecca Nurse Memorial, erected 1885. Located in the Rebecca Nurse Homestead cemetery, Danvers, Massachusetts. The inscription on the monument reads: Rebecca Nurse, Yarmouth, England 1621. Salem, Mass., 1692. "O Christian Martyr/who for Truth could die/When all about thee/owned the hideous lie!/The world redeemed/from Superstition's sway/Is breathing freer for thy sake today." From the poem "Christian Martyr," by John Greenleaf Whittier.
